Nice Park--When You Can Get There

Yesterday was not much of a day for picnicking, but it was a good time for checking out accessibility to the city's parks, as indicated by this newsman's car stuck in the middle of the main road at "Nature Park" west of town just off the Corbet "Slab". (Sun Staff Photo by Sam Pendergrast)

Park Improvements: Not for the Economy But for Better Life

By SAM PENDERGRAST
Editor of The Sun

This series started out, some two weeks and ten articles ago, as an attempt at an exhaustive, comprehensive and—above all—factual study of the "whys and hows" of the seven propositions appearing on the municipal improvements ballot Nov. 14.

The first three propositions—for attention to water, sewage and streets—are of a highly factual nature, and they were approached in a statistical manner: how many blocks of paving will be carried out, how many 12-inch water lines and 30-inch sewage outfall lines will be constructed and where.

The fourth question, that of flood control, was necessarily less tangible and therefore less easily described and staked out for specific action. Streets, after all, and tile and metal pipe are formal, predictable, and identifiable quantities, whereas meandering creeks such as Post Oak and Mesquite twist and turn and demand varying solutions to widely differing problems in different parts of town.

The fifth proposition, dealing with the need for a new municipal services complex, has been the most theoretical of all—although the crowding of some 19,000-square-feet of municipal functions into a 16,000-square-foot building and wedging in another 5,000-square-feet of firemen's quarters seems physical enough for the 75 municipal servants asked to perform their duties while playing a daily game of "breadbasket-turn-over."

Today's topic, the proposed $150,000 in bonds for improvement of city parks, is perhaps the most intangible, although some active families, many industrial "lookers", are municipal planners with the "long view" might consider it a key measure—not so much for the physical improvements to be made as for the community spirit and sense of proportion implied in whatever approach the community may take toward its solution.

GREEN LAND

In a suburban community, after all, there is no sense of being "cooped up". A drive of minutes can take one to a back road or a ranch tank that seems a million miles from the so-called "industrial revolution". And Corsicana is, by nature, a "green land" with streets canopied by ancient oak and lawns guarded by hedgerows of bois d'arc interlaced with honeysuckle and wisteria.

There is no great premium on sylvan glades in a community still struggling toward "citihood". (Nor was there when New York's "Central Park" was set aside—or Chicago's "Grant Park" or Los Angeles' "MacArthur Park"—yet those patches of green have provided many a happy romp for millions of apartment children and adult leg-stretchers and dog-walkers.)

WE HAVE THE BASIS

There are some facts about our parks and recreational facilities:

We have five major parks: Jester, Community, "Nature", Bunert and Lake Halbert.

They are in various states of development, mostly primitive.

Jester has a marvelous pavilion that has been put to good use for community meetings as well as club and family picnics. There are also numerous smaller family-type picnic sites under the sprawling trees, and there is, adjacent, one of Corsicana's most potentially constructive and rewarding facilities: the "Historical Village" that is a trove of area history and memorabilia.

Jester and Bunert both have swimming pools.

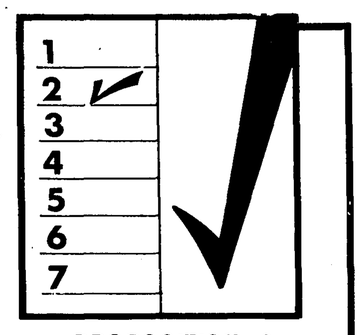

Jester is easily accessible by car from all over town and by foot from a large residential area.

Community Park has become the nucleus for formal and informal recreation as the locale of Corsicana's excellent YMCA, the Beebe Field complex of baseball diamonds, and a few tennis courts. It also boasts a few very informal picnic sites.

"Nature Park" off the Corbet "slab", known by various other names, is remote and largely undeveloped, with a few firepits and tables and some playground equipment.

Together, the five provide the basis for a park and recreation system than which no city of equal size can claim better, giving the mandatory elements for a useful community park system: separation throughout the city, accessibility, adequate space within each element, healthy variety, and great appeal, both singly and together.

PROPOSITION 2

$150,000 Park Bonds

Vote Nov. 14

WHAT DO THEY NEED?

They need only a variety of improvements—most of them minor, inexpensive, and permanent.

Jester, the most thoroughly developed now, needs the least: perhaps four more tennis courts, for a total of ten, and additional informal shelters.

Community Park needs more picnic units and some attention to parking areas and improved roadways.

It also needs—as described at the "town hall" meeting piquantly—some restroom facilities.

Bunert Park needs more shelters and picnic sites and—above all—a paved street, with the latter a top priority in the area of recreation.

"Nature Park" is intended to maintain a certain rusticity, as its name indicates, but this newsman can attest that it needs some pavement in the park. (He got his car stuck on the road right in the middle of all that wonderful natural setting Wednesday afternoon on a pict photography session. Nature is one thing to behold and quite another to get bogged up to the axles in.)

Perhaps the least developed park area—considering its potential—is the one at Lake Halbert, which is very large, very appealing and potentially very much more useful than it is even now as a site for water sports, fishing, picnicking and light camping.

Caretaker Johnny Brown says some of the roads need attention, and one secondary exit road maintained by both the City and Navarro County is due to get some work.

The boat house that burned to the waterline several years ago should be replaced for maximum usage of the boating facilities, and at least one more boat launching slip is needed.

A recreation slab was poured recently in the group picnic area about half-way from the front entrance to the caretaker's home, and the Navarro County Action Committee has built three concrete picnic units and plans at least three more when the weather permits.

Much work has already been done at Halbert, in the way of improving ditches, but more picnic units are needed.

One other potential recreational area now used primarily for fishing—Lake Corsicana—could profit from a few picnic units, Director of Public Works Dick Ballenger feels, although he views that lake as of less use for recreation than Halbert.

FUNDS TO MATCH

Ballenger said there are federal "matching funds" available for such recreational projects, and the "Open Land Act" now in effect is a reliable source of assistance.

It is not possible to predict exactly how much in federal funds could be acquired, but Ballenger thinks it should run from 50 per cent to 75 per cent of local funds spent on parks.

City Manager Jack Russell explained at the "town hall" meeting that the ideal improvements for a community of this size are those which are permanent and require little or no maintenance, since the City has no regular crews able to look after parks.

Only Lake Halbert has a full-time caretaker, and an assistant was added to his staff about four months ago. They maintain the roads, mow dozens of acres of grass so that the lake area looks like a large lawn, and "stay busy", according to Brown, who has been there a total of 13 years.

But maintenance would be a problem at other parks, if complicated or demanding facilities were installed.

County Commission To Give Self Raise?

By ROB MECKEL
Sun Staff Writer

There was a strong hint during the Navarro County Commissioners' meeting Wednesday morning that Navarro County residents may soon be paying more money for the services of the county judge, the four commissioners, and other elected officials.

The last item of business was a recommendation by Navarro County Judge Kenneth Douglas which, if adopted, would give each of the county's elected officials a salary increase of $1,764 and each county employe a minimum increase of 5.6 per cent of his present salary.

According to courthouse records, the county officials were paid $9,708 annual salary up through Dec. 1971. During the Dec. 23, 1971, county commissioners' court meeting, the commissioners approved and accepted the 1972 budget for Navarro County which, according to a spokesman for the County Auditor's office, contained provisions for a 5.5 per cent across the board wage increase for county employes and officials. This wage hike boosted the county officials' salaries from $9,708 to $10,236. There was no discussion about wage increases during the Dec. 1971 meeting.

The wage hike approved before that was a 10 per cent wage increase for county employes paid wholly from county funds, and was effective June 1, 1971.

The effect of the proposed wage hike would be that county officials would receive $2,292 more per year than at this same time last year.

Douglas pointed out that he will not be affected by a salary increase because he plans to resign soon and accept a job in Austin as executive director of the Texas Association of Counties.

No action was taken by the commissioners on Douglas' pay hike proposal Wednesday. After brief discussion, the commissioners recessed and will reconvene at 10 a.m. Friday. At that time, according to Douglas, the votes from the Angus beer and wine election will be canvassed.

The County Judge read a prepared statement to the Commissioners Court saying he would like to recommend "a salary increase to all county employes in a minimum amount of 5.6 per cent, rounded off to the nearest even dollar."

In his prepared statement, Douglas said the present monthly take-home pay of each of the elected officials based on a salary of $10,236 is as follows: County Auditor J.D. George, $640.84; Judge Douglas, $541.43; C.O. (Bud) Curington, $594.01; Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse, $653.01; County Clerk Clyve Riddels, $606.51; Tax Assessor-Collector Jerry S. Scott, $609.41; Pct. I Comm. H.E. McNabb, $653.01; Pct. 2 Comm. Arlon Simmons, $567.21; Pct. 3 Comm. E.E. Montgomery, $629.41; and Pct. 4 Comm. Billy Hargrove, $629.41.

Douglas said, "Since each of the office holders usually spends a minimum of $50 and a maximum of $100 each month for worthwhile organizations because they are expected to as elected officials, because they probably spend an average of $100 a month campaigning, good will and doing a number of things with their money the average citizen does not have to do, there's not a whole lot left to take care of the ordinary necessities. I realize, percentage-wise, that this is a larger raise than the employes, but over the years the employes have received many raises not received by the elected officials. To secure and retain qualified people willing to run for the various offices involved, I feel that this is essential.

"None of these increases would come out of the Revenue Sharing and have nothing to do with Revenue Sharing," Douglas said.

Immediately after the meeting was officially recessed, Hargrove and Riddels emphasized that they must pay a lot of money as donations during the year, pointing out that this is expected of them.

In other commission business, Douglas announced that a meeting of state, county and city officials was scheduled for Thursday (today) in Austin to provide current information about the revenue sharing program. The county commissioners indicated they would attend the meeting if possible.

Also during the meeting, County Agent Gene Sears presented a framed certificate of appreciation to McNabb for his work with 4-H programs during his past years as commissioner. Douglas and the other commissioners were awarded certificates during the recent Annual 4-H Banquet which McNabb was unable to attend.

Another business item was approval of a motion by Simmons to enter into contract with Western Data Service, Inc., of Waxahachie for preparation of the county's delinquent tax record. The firm was recommended by Tax Assessor-Collector Scott, who said a delinquent tax roll is required about every two years. He said it would be best to use this firm since it also handles the regular tax roll for Navarro County and already has necessary information in its computers. Ralph Roberts, vice president of the Western Data firm, said his company intends to keep records continually updated.

Other people present in the commission courtroom included two representatives of the local Family Consultation Center requesting assistance from the County for expansion of services which the center provides. Both Mrs. Rose Praisner, FCC director, and Dr. Joseph Glicksman, FCC board chairman, pointed out that the current trend is to try to treat mental illness as close as possible to the home environment.

Mrs. Praisner suggested that the county pay the cost of a qualified aide to work for the FCC who could assist in outpatient and other work. She said this aide should be someone with a college education and possibly be a social worker or registered nurse. She pointed out that revenue sharing funds might be used to help in planning for the health needs of Navarro County.

After hearing lengthy explanation of the FCC program and discussing financial aspects of the program with the FCC representatives, the commissioners thanked Mrs. Praisner and Glicksman for the presentation. No official action was taken by the commissioners on this matter.

Other commission business Wednesday included passing a motion changing the regularly scheduled Dec. 11 commission meeting to Dec. 12 so the commissioners can attend a meeting in Austin with the Texas Highway Commission. Douglas said the Austin meeting will be a public hearing on proposed widening of Hwy. 31 from Corsicana to the Hill County line.

Another commission business item was approval of a motion authorizing execution of a title for trade-in of an automobile used by the Navarro County Crippled Childrens' Society. Douglas said the group wants to trade an older model car in on a 1972 Buick. The older car was registered in the name of Navarro County, although the society pays all expenses on the car, Douglas said.

Also approved by the commissioners was a motion by Simmons to apply for membership, if law permits it, with the Trinity Improvement Association at a cost of $100 per year.

Ennis St. John's Begins Long Trek To New Crown Try

By JIM BUSH
Golden Circle Reporter

ENNIS — The St. John's Crusaders of Ennis tucked one more win under their belts last week as they resumed a fight which took them within a hair's breadth of winning the State Basketball Championship last year.

Thursday, the Crusaders took on LaPoyner—perhaps their most powerful competitor—and lost 50-46 in overtime play.

At one stage of the game, St. John's had a 13-point lead over last year's Class B State Champs, who had all but one of last season's players back in action. Midway through the game, the Crusaders were still eight points ahead of LaPoyner when one of Ennis' star players, Bobby Honza, was injured and out of the game for six minutes. LaPoyner narrowed the margin to within five points.

St. John's had a chance of breaking a tie game with one last shot, but the basket was missed and the teams went into overtime play.

Bobby Honza led St. John's in points scored by tallying up 24 points.

Monday, the Crusaders took on Maypearl and, with considerably less difficulty, came through with 77 points compared to their opponent's 46.

Bobby Honza was again the star player, hitting 9 of 10 for 18 points.

Yourel Means from Corsicana ran a good second place with an 8 of 16 record plus one out of two free throws. Besides totaling 17 points, he took 13 rebounds and blocked 9 shots.

The over-all team record was 37 of 72 from the field for about a 51 per cent shooting average.

The team's average for the season is 63.6 points per game, with just 46 points given away defensively in the four games played.

"Balance is our key thing," said coach Dennis Kaman in explaining the team's success. "We've only had one game in which not everybody scored."

The St. John's girls have not had the same luck. Their team fell to Maypearl in a 51-47 defeat. Donna Patak was the high-pointer of the game for Ennis with 12 points.

In their game against LaPoyner, the St. John's girls lost once again. The score of that game was 33-29.

Classes in the Corsicana Independent School District will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Friday for the CHS football game in Killeen. The buses will make their regular stops, according to the Superintendent's office.

Classes in the CISD will not be held Monday due to a meeting of the District 12 Texas State Teachers Association in Waco.

Dawson Named Baylor Trustee

Leighton B. Dawson, Corsicana attorney since 1943 and active churchman and civic leader, was elected Tuesday by the Baptist General Convention meeting in Abilene to a three-year term on the board of trustees of Baylor University at Waco.

"It's one of the greatest honors I've ever received," Dawson reacted Wednesday to word of his selection.

His father, Dr. J.M. Dawson, retired Baptist minister and author of note, served for many years as a trustee of Baylor.

The Corsicana attorney is chairman of the NJC board of trustees and has twice served his church, First Baptist, as chairman of the board of deacons.

No Contest Made To Angus Votes

ANGUS—Burt Jones, election judge for the Angus beer election, reported Monday morning that no plans have been made for contesting any votes from the Saturday election.

County Judge Kenneth Douglas said Commissioners must wait until five days after an election to check the votes; therefore Thursday will be the day on which the votes will be canvassed.

Sunshine Breaks Out Again

By JIM BUSH
Golden Circle Reporter

Sunshine finally returned to Sun Country late Wednesday afternoon, breaking through the dark barrier of clouds which, for the past several days, have dumped heavy amounts of rainfall across the Golden Circle.

Barry reported Thursday morning an additional .6 inch since Wednesday morning and a whopping total of 9 inches since the rains began about 10 days ago. The temperature in Barry Wednesday morning, and in most other areas of the Golden Circle, ranged from the upper 50s to low 60s.

Frost reported a total of 2 inches of rainfall since last Saturday and a respectable 8.7 inches in the past couple of weeks. Wortham had a total of 7.25 inches since the intermittent showers started about 10 days ago. The total rainfall there since Wednesday morning was .65 inch.

Richland recorded .4 inch additional rainfall since last check Wednesday and a ground-soaking total of 7.50 inches for the past two weeks.

Dawson reported about 3 inches over the past couple of days and a grand total of nearly 10 inches for the past two weeks.

Blooming Grove had only a light drizzle Wednesday, but the total for the week there was 2.25 inches. Fairfield reported about 2 inches since Monday.

The skies really opened up over Rice after the rain check was made there Wednesday morning, pouring 4 additional inches onto the town and bringing the total there to 6 inches.

A total rainfall of about 1.50 inches was recorded in Trinidad Tuesday through Wednesday.

Corsicana had .72 inch over the past 24 hours and a total rainfall of 1.34 inch since Monday.

Ennis reported .85 inch since Wednesday morning and a total for the week of about 1.7 inch.

Weather

LOCAL—Clear to partly cloudy and mild this afternoon, tonight, and Friday; high today upper 40's; winds westerly 10-15 miles an hour; low this morning 41; high yesterday 53. Recorded amount of rain in the last 24 hours was .72 inch.

★★★ Aunt Louise ★★★

Today is the day we turn our clocks back an hour and will get to sleep an hour later in the morning.

It isn't any secret I'm "against" Day Light Saving Time. I'm at the age where my bones tell me when I'm tired and need to go to bed. Too, habit is a thing that gets to young and old. Sometimes in the summer I have to wait for it to get dark so I can go to bed even though I'm tired.

Why can't they keep it the same all year?

Oh, I know most of you disagree with me; so I'll make the column short. Smile!

Anyway, I'll feel and look more rested in the morning. Smile!

If you have any free time today or tomorrow go by the Old Halbert House, 1250 W. 3rd. Tomie Clemon's mother will be there and she has a ten per cent discount on antiques, glassware, a portable typewriter and odds and ends in the Poverty House. You will love looking at the Halbert home, too.

Fairfield Chamber Reorganizes

FAIRFIELD—Five new chamber of commerce directors have been chosen in Fairfield to replace directors whose terms expired Nov. 1.

Selected were O.B. Utley, Jr., Chester Storey, Don Sanders, Dwayne York and Danny Robertson. They will serve three year terms, replacing B.G. Capps, Lyndon Red, B.R. Vestal, Lyle Red and Watt Newman.

President of the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce Bob Cooper said four new 6-by-6-foot signs reading "Fairfield Chamber of Commerce Welcomes You" have been erected on Interstate 45, north and south of town, and on Highway 84, east and west of the city limits.

The Fairfield Chamber of Commerce has also decided to run a one-third page ad in the East Texas Chamber of Commerce publication "East Texas Vacation and Travel Guide." The ad, which was originally paid for by The History Club, will be taken over by the Chamber of Commerce at the request of the Club.

An ad will also be placed in the Trinity River Authority-Trinity Improvement Association's "Trinity Valley Progress" to promote the industrial potential of the area.

Teague Museum Not Like Funeral Parlor

By JIM BUSH
Golden Circle Reporter

TEAGUE—In Teague there's a museum in which one doesn't have to whisper or walk softly—there's even a bell visitors can ring—and no one goes away "feeling like you have toured a funeral parlor," as a spokesman for the B-RI Railroad Museum states.

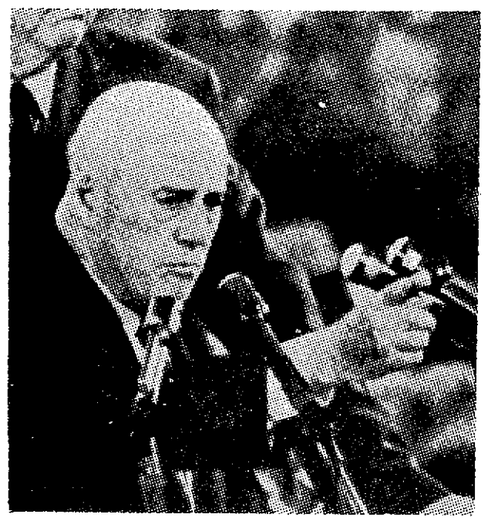

The museum is headed by H.A. Ellisor, president, and served by a long list of faithful volunteer workers, with Mrs. Bowlen Bond serving as curator. All are interested in showing off the museum to anyone who wants to visit. Special tours by schools, churches and clubs are especially welcomed.

One such group which recently looked over the more than 8,000 square feet of displays at the B-RI Museum was composed of 11 and 12-year-old youngsters from the McLennon County Home in Waco.

The group, under the supervision of Mrs. Tara Bond Holmes, Mrs. Irene Gray and Howard Buchanan, is reported to have thoroughly enjoyed their tour, during which they gave careful inspection to "Big Mike," the steam engine that weighs tons; the first Teague pumper fire truck—a Seagrave 12 cylinder—complete with a collection of metal fire hats, hoses, ladder, siren and fire bell; and Teague's first outside communications center with a telegraph on which one can still tap out the Morse code.

Other attractions at the museum include a room filled with hundreds of pictures portraying the early days of Teague; a display of artwork by local artists with the Freestone County Art League; a Veterans of Foreign Wars Room with artifacts from the Civil War to the Viet Nam War; and, of course, an impressive collection of railroad items, including pictures and facts about railroads of the past and the men who operated them.

"MISTER SAM" RAYBURN DIDN'T DO IT—and America's better off because of it!

The years were 1952 and 1956. A war hero was running for President on the Republican ticket. Some people thought then that the Democratic Party had been captured by liberals. Even then, the Republicans were trying to turn Democrats against each other.

Mister Sam knew it was nonsense and said so. And Mister Sam, who held the office of Speaker of the House longer than any man in history, knew this: a conservative Democrat is at home in the Democratic Party no matter who the nominee is...but he's just being used by the Republican Party when he goes to them.

In 1952 and 1956, the Republicans had a man of honesty and integrity. But this year, it's Nixon not Ike they're asking you to vote for. The Republicans are trying to scare regular conservative Democrats into believing they should vote for Richard Nixon.

Mister Sam didn't scare that easy. Why should you?

Nixon has presided over a period of corruption in government unmatched by any previous period in our history. The bribe has become the way of life for big corporations seeking favors in Washington. Nixon has doubled welfare rolls and unemployment. He's created a budget deficit of $80 billion. Spies and burglars working for his campaign have sought to destroy the American political process.

Senator George McGovern served in Congress under Mister Sam's leadership. Perhaps that's where he learned to talk straight and not duck the tough questions. He knows you might not agree with everything he says, but on the big issues, on the things which have made the Democratic Party your Party, you and George McGovern probably see eye to eye.

If a great American like Sam Rayburn saw fit to stick with the Democratic Party in 1952 and 1956, can't you see how much more important it is for you to vote Democratic this year.

Area Counties Receive State History Awards

AUSTIN—Freestone, Limestone and Hill Counties are among 36 counties recognized for outstanding local history preservation by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee.

The counties were chosen at an annual meeting of the committee Friday and Saturday in Austin. The 36 winners received the Distinguished Service Award for organizing progressive and well-rounded preservation efforts during the past year.

Requirements for the award include that the local survey committee must (1) sponsor at least four official Texas historical markers or spend $600 for markers during the year, (2) present at least six talks on local history to other civic groups, (3) conduct at least three historical tours in the county, (4) publish a pamphlet, brochure, etc., showing sites of local historical interest, (5) sponsor at least one annual history appreciation observance, (6) secure at least $100 in investments in the Texas Historical Foundation and (7) publish a county committee newsletter at least quarterly.

Ennis Improvements in Works

ENNIS — Ennis City Manager Kerry Sweatt reported Tuesday that a number of civic improvements discussed at length in the past by the town's governing body are now being carried out.

A storm sewer has been finished on Linden Street, and street construction in that area has also been acted upon.

Specifications have been issued for bidders on a number of vehicles needed by Ennis, and bids are also being received on fire department radio equipment. This will be "alerting" equipment, Sweatt explained, and will tie in with existing radios.

Delivery is expected soon for new teletype equipment ordered for the Ennis Police Department. The new teletype system will be a part of the National Crime Information System. The Ennis Department will be able to receive instant information on any individual's criminal and driving records as well as information on wanted persons, plus data issued by the Department of Public Safety.

Barefoot Daughter Due Here Thursday

Mary Kay Sanders, daughter of U.S. Senate Candidate Barefoot Sanders, will be in Corsicana for about an hour and a half Thursday morning, according to County Democratic Chairman John Beck, who will host Miss Sanders at a breakfast at the Holiday Inn at 9:30.

A student at Colorado State College, she is helping campaign for her father in the last days of his race against incumbent Sen. John Tower, a Republican.

Grove Carnival Is Saturday

BLOOMING GROVE — Due to the heavy rains of last week, the Blooming Grove Lions Club has postponed annual downtown carnival until Nov. 4.

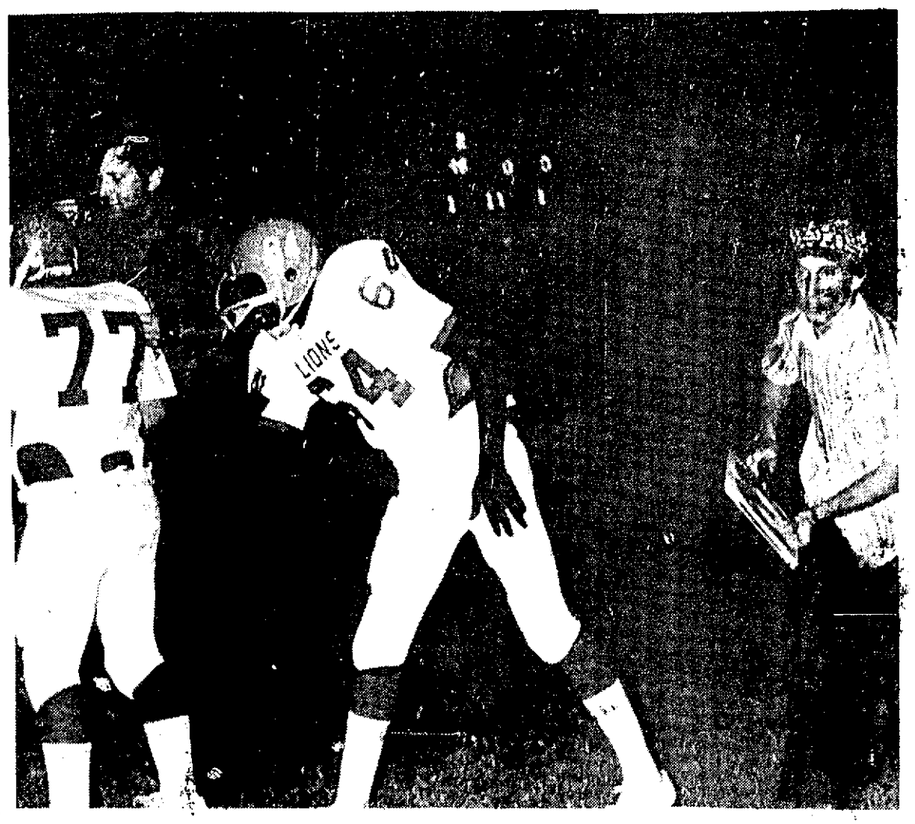

On that date the usual booths, games and concessions will be open on Fordyce Street for the enjoyment of all in attendance.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used by the Lions for making civic improvements.

Angus Vote Canvass Scheduled Friday

Navarro County Commissioners, during a regular meeting Wednesday morning, voted to canvass the votes of the Angus beer election at 10 a.m. Friday.

Navarro County Judge Kenneth Douglas said state law requires waiting five days after the election before the votes can be canvassed. Today is the fourth day after the election, and the Commissioners plan to be in Austin Thursday to attend a meeting concerning the Federal Revenue Sharing Program.

'Carrot and Stick' Technique

Chamber of Commerce Electing New Leaders

Chamber of Commerce members are voting this week on the election of seven new directors to serve three-year terms.

10 a.m. Monday is the deadline for returning ballots, which list the names of seven candidates proposed by the nominating committee. The ballots were mailed to members Monday evening.

Members may endorse the slate of seven as proposed or may substitute a candidate of their choice for any of the seven, as long as each member only votes for a total of seven directors.

Nominees are: Julian Bell, Universal-Rundle plant manager; Charles Hooser, board chairman, State National Bank; Art Keeney, publisher, The Daily Sun; Maurice Kirkpatrick, president, Falcon Business Forms; Bill Null, owner of Home Furniture; Wiley Pennell, Lone Star Gas regional manager; and Mrs. Kenneth (Patsy) Wiley, co-owner of Pat and Babs.

New directors will be introduced at the Nov. 9 Chamber Board of Directors meeting at which time the nominating committee will submit nominations for 1972 officers. Comprising the nominating panel are three past presidents, Don Marett, chairman; Embry Ferguson and Herb Silverberg.

Number of Navarro Voters Still Unkown

Navarro County Tax Assessor-Collector Jerry S. Scott said this morning that information on the total number of registered voters in Navarro County has not yet been received by his office but speculated that it may arrive sometime later today.

Scott said the voter registration information was sent to a computer in Waxahachie and that a total count of registered voters was expected Monday but was delayed.

157 Vote Absentee

Anyone who expects to be out of town on Nov. 7 and wishes to vote may cast an absentee ballot in the office of the Navarro County Clerk.

A spokesman for the office said there have been 157 absentee ballots cast as of 8 a.m. today. The deadline for voting absentee is 5 p.m. Friday.

TJCFF Report

Blinn Cinches Tie for Title, Chalks Up Records

KILGORE, Texas (Special)—Blinn's Buccaneers, adding new luster to their athletic prowess each week, continued unbeaten in the Texas Junior College Football Federation and sacked at least a tie for the title this past week.

With just two games remaining on the league slate, Ben Boehnke's troops have a two-game lead and seem headed for the first championship of the modern era at Blinn and certainly the first since the TJCFF was conceived in 1964.

In marching to that perfect 7-0 standard, Blinn has established an all-time winning streak for any period for which records are available starting in 1948, a span of 25 seasons.

Kilgore gave Blinn a boost up to a title tie by erasing any hopes Henderson County had for the crown 33-6 in a show of competetive muscle. Navarro shrugged off a first quarter deadlock to blister Ranger 31-3 and Tyler fell behind 0 to 14 before kindling their fire and casing past Wharton, 21 to 14.

At Brenham, Donnie Bockhorn provided the margin of triumph with a pair of field goals, his second just one yard short of the record for distance.

Steve Beaird got the Buc's started with a 14-yard strike for six and Bockhorn added his first of two kicks.

With that score, Beaird, who was to amass 112 yards on 23 carries, took over the scoring lead and has apparently recovered from injuries that kept him out of two games.

Bockhorn centered the uprights from 40 yards away to increase the first period margin to 10-0.

David Henson, who's three catches for 90 yards paced the receivers, snared a 33-yard aerial from Steve Gilmore in the second canto and Bockhorn shoved the advantage to 20-0 with a 50-yard field goal in the third chapter.

Cisco came back with a third frame 19-yard pass from Walter Hargrove to Oather Spenoer and moved closer with a 17-yard Hargrove-to-Ricky Parr combination in the caboose chapter. Mark Johnson kicked both points.

The triumph should help Blinn in the polls this week.

The Plunderers are the only team ranked and moved up from a tie for 6th to 5th in the NJCAA and are deadlocked with two other teams at number three in the J.C. Grid-Wire. Both rankings mark new achievement levels on the national scene for Blinn.

Kilgore so completely dominated their match with Henderson County the Cardinals never started a drive in Kilgore's end of the field all night.

Donald Dunlap got the adrenalin gushing for the fans with a 84-yard punt return that saw key blocks proffered by Harold Krannig, Cornell Reese and Gary Robinson. Vic Dalrymple kicked his first of two PAT's and the race was on.

John Brown danced across the double stripe from 16 yards out and then tossed a 43-yard halfback option pass to Dunlap as time elasped from the clock for the first half.

Kilgore, who was to produce 446 yards offense, 347 on the ground, kept on the pressure the second half.

Henderson County threatened twice in the final chapter, one time reaching the five before a fourth down pass failed, and finally avoided their second straight shutout to Kilgore with 1:43 left in the game on a one yard effort by Mack Cumby. The pass for points failed.

It was the sixth straight win by Kilgore over the Cards but HCJC still leads the series, 14-12-1.

For the second straight week, Reese—who last week was in on or was solely responsible for 30 of the 60 tackles Kilgore had—played a key role in a Ranger defense that yielded just 41 yards rushing.

For the Cardinals, Charles Holman came off the bench to pass for 132 yards on 8 of 11 passes.

Navarro fell behind when Willie Jones hit a 21-yard field goal for Ranger which was set up when Floyd Jones recovered a fumble at the Navarro 35.

Doug Perdue, the leading scorer in the loop, tied the game in the first chapter with a 34-yard field goal and from there on in, it was Navarro as the Bulldogs showed out for the Homecoming crowd.

Buddy Kirk picked up a Ranger fumble at the Ranger 10 to set up the three pointer.

Eldrich Johnson had two second period runs of two yards each and Perdue added his first of four extra point kicks.

Joe Rust got into the act as a thrower and runner in the last half. Rust hit Chris Lemberg with a 17-yard pass in the third frame and then had a 63-yard scoring sortie in the final chucker.

Wharton tried to spoil Tyler's Homecoming by taking a 14-0 lead on a one-yard pass from Gary Frank to Aldo Knox and a 20-yard run by Allan Webster, both in the second quarter. Steve Boron kicked both points.

Tyler then used breaks to tie and win the game.

Phillip Kent took a 10-yard pass from Frank Duncan and Kent than ran for two. Billy Wolf picked up a Wharton fumble at the Pioneer's 21 and Duncan hit Reginald Hunter with a 8-yard pass. The point was blocked.

Tyler again smothered a Wharton fumble, of which the visitors were to lose four for the night, when Waymon Clark snared the loose ball at the Wharton 26. Donald Forte got the winning talley with a 3-yard sweep and Pat Mason kicked the point.

The elimination matches start this week in the fight for second place. Tyler travels to Henderson County, Kilgore treks to Wharton and Navarro goes to Cisco.

Blinn makes their final trip of the year by going to Ranger. Ranger has never beaten Blinn in a TJCFF match but are primed for a major upset.

It May Pay To Brawl After All...

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pro football players who were fined for leaving the bench during a fight on the field last year could get their $200 returned, plus 6-per-cent interest, if a ruling of a hearing officer of the National Labor Relations Board stands.

Club owners also would have to bargain with the NFL Players Association over the installation of artificial turf which the players contend is more conducive to injuries.

Marvin J. Welles, NLRB administrative law judge, announced his ruling Tuesday that the NFL Management Council was guilty of an unfair labor practice in assessing the fines on players for leaving the bench during a fight

Baseball's First Black Manager Will Come Too Late for Jackie Robinson

By IRA BERKOW

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Jackie Robinson was too tough to die of a broken heart.

But not long ago he said he had really lost interest in baseball because "I am convinced that there will not be a black manager in my lifetime." He was right.

Before the second game of the 1972 World Series, Robinson was honored by major league baseball for his contribution to the game as well as to the fight against drug usage by youth.

Robinson accepted graciously but said he could not be content until there was a black manager on the sidelines.

What he saw on those sidelines that day were two managers who had been in the Brooklyn Dodgers' organization at the same time he was. Dick Williams, A's manager, was a bench warmer in the '50s when Robinson was a star. Sparky Anderson, Reds' manager, was a second baseman with Montreal, the Dodgers' top farm club, when Robinson retired from baseball in 1957.

And recently, Bobby Winkles was named manager of the California Angels. Winkles has no previous major-league experience (other than as an Angels' coach). And Dave Bristol, fired in his two previous managerial jobs, was named manager of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Winkles is a fresh face—something unusual for baseball—but a fresh white face, nonetheless. Bristol is joining a long line of men who play musical dugouts — an ugly game which had forever angered Robinson.

He saw Whitey Lockman get the job with the Cubs when owner Phil Wrigley said that, "Ernie Banks was too nice a guy to inflict managerial pressures on him."

And he has seen former teammates and former rivals bounce around in the locked and lily-white managerial clubs: Alvin Dark, Eddie Stanky, Gil Hodges, Don Zimmer, Gene Mauch, Wes Westrum, Cookie Lavagetto, Lockman.

Robinson has said that blacks such as Henry Aaron, Frank Robinson, Maury Wills, Bill White, Jim Gilliam, among many others, were as qualified as any, more qualified in fact, than most.

They held the same thought before Robinson became the first black major leaguer. So that has proved a fallacy.

Another notion, held by hidebound owners, is that white players would not respond to a black manager. "Players," Robinson had said, "are concerned only with winning and with money. Do you know who was the first Dodger to give me tips? Dixie Walker! And he had been the staunchest opponent to my joining the Dodgers."

Robinson said he would not want to be a manager. That is academic. He was never offered a job.

Talking about Aaron, who has also been outspoken on racial issues, Robinson said that he doubts the Atlanta Braves star would ever be chosen to manage a big-league club. "Aaron won't sacrifice his principles for personal gain," said Robinson.

Robinson obviously saw himself in the image of Aaron.

Robinson said he saw little hope of a black man becoming a big-league manager in the near future because, he said, "there are no more Branch Rickeys."

Rickey was the Dodger owner who broke the major league color line with Robinson, despite the intransigence of the other 15 club owners.

Some of Rickey's philosophies survive. After the A's World Series victory, Dick Williams said, "We won it "because we played Branch Rickey style baseball."

Two days later, Jackie Robinson died of a heart attack.

Trevino Rates As Top Choice In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino remained a popular but self-chastised favorite today as he awaited the start of the $125,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament—and probable disciplinary action.

"I made a mistake," Trevino said Tuesday of his action in stalking off the course in last week's Sahara Invitational in Las Vegas, Nev.

"An hour after I'd left I'd have given $5,000 not to have done it—to be able to go back—play it out."

The flamboyant, outspoken Trevino, the 1971 Athlete of the Year and current British Open titleholder, walked off the course midway through the third round of the Sahara and then issued a strongly worded blast at slow play, charging that tour officials neglected their duties in allowing it to continue.

He left without speaking to a tour or tournament official, in violation of the rules of the Tournament Players Division of the PGA, the governing body for tour performers.

"I should be fined or suspended," Trevino said.

"I sent a wire to tournament officials apologizing after I got home to El Paso, but I don't guess that does any good," he said.

Trevino said he had no idea what—if any—action would be taken, or when.

"If it's a suspension, I just hope it's after this week," he said, then grinned. "This is the last tournament I'm going to play this year anyhow."

Fund at 67%; Check-up Set

A follow-up meeting was set for next week by the General Management and General Employes divisions of the United Fund campaign this morning when a check-up session wasn't as productive as had been hoped.

The major reason cited for lack of a better showing was inability of workers in the two divisions to see heads of small businesses and make necessary arrangements for soliciting their gifts in General Management and their employes contribution in General Employes division.

A number of prospect cards that had not been worked were re-distributed in the hopes another campaign worker might have better success in making the contact necessary to implementing the solicitation.

Chairman Tom Boyd's General Management team came up Thursday with total collections of $3,653 against their quota of $12,000, and Chairman David Helmer's General Employes workers reported a total of $962.50 against a goal for the unit of $3,300 at the coffee check-up held at Lone Star Gas Co. Flame Room.

The two units will meet again at 7:30 a.m. next Thursday to report progress.

Atoms Due

Embry Ferguson, Texas Power and Light Company, presented a film presentation entitled "Atomic Power To Date" at the noon luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday.

After the presentation Ferguson explained that plans were underway for a proposed nuclear power plant to be located in Sommerville County between Glen Rose and Granbery.

The expected date of completion is 1980, he said. He also explained that it will take four years of groundwork planning and four years of construction before the plant will be in operation.

The plants pose no radiation or environmental problems and will not endanger the water. The plant will be located on Lake Granbery.

The plant which will be built by Westinghouse is estimated at $2 million and will incur between 3,000 and 5,000 acres of land, he said.

Campaign Chairman Bob Potts and UF Executive Director Ralph Dudley informed the division workers the overall campaign stands today at 65.7 per cent of the $110,000 goal.

Environmental Program Getting Great Response

The Environmental and Beautification Campaign initiated Oct. 10 has received "tremendous response from the public", according to reports at an evaluation session Wednesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce.

The specialized campaign, focused primarily but not exclusively in Corsicana, will continue through Dec. 8 with different areas of the city being served each week.

The first two weeks of the campaign resulted in many loads of extra debris hauled to the city sanitary landfill by the Sanitation Department, Public Works Director Dick Ballenger reported.

Jaycee President Gary Towers and Chamber Chairman C.L. Redus expressed appreciation of the two sponsoring organizations to the city, Commissioners Court, news media, the schools, Board of Realtors, the County Extension Service and Navarro County Action Committee for assistance and cooperation in the clean-up effort — along with the public.

As a follow-up, the sponsors are requesting that the City of Corsicana consider specializing in a clean-up on an entrance route into town. Property owners will be asked to join with the city crews in an all-out effort to make a showcase of the route selected. Civic leaders in attendance for the critique volunteered to serve as a liaison committee

Chamber Staff Away

The Chamber of Commerce staff is in Longview attending the annual meeting and "short school" of the East Texas Chamber Managers and Secretaries Association.

The annual meeting opened at 9 a.m. at the Contessa Inn and continues through Friday afternoon.

Why You Should Re-Elect President Richard Nixon Nov. 7

LET'S LOOK At AGRICULTURE And STOCK RAISING

WE HAVE one of the most abundant supplies of food in history. Our exports of livestock, fresh meats, grain sorghums and grain are going to add many dollars to the general economy.

WE'RE SELLING COMMODITIES of which we've had surpluses—and we're helping provide jobs on trucks and ships at the same time.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

PRESIDENT NIXON'S AGRICULTURAL ACT OF 1970 gave producers more flexibility and freedom in operations.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S ADMINISTRATION has turned around the farm situation that saw farmers get an increase in income of 6 per cent between 1951 and 1969 while wage rates went up 6 per cent every year.

FOR YOUR OWN GOOD

RE-ELECT THE PRESIDENT

AND REMEMBER

The Only Way to Have Your Say
